

The Wonders of RATWOMAN

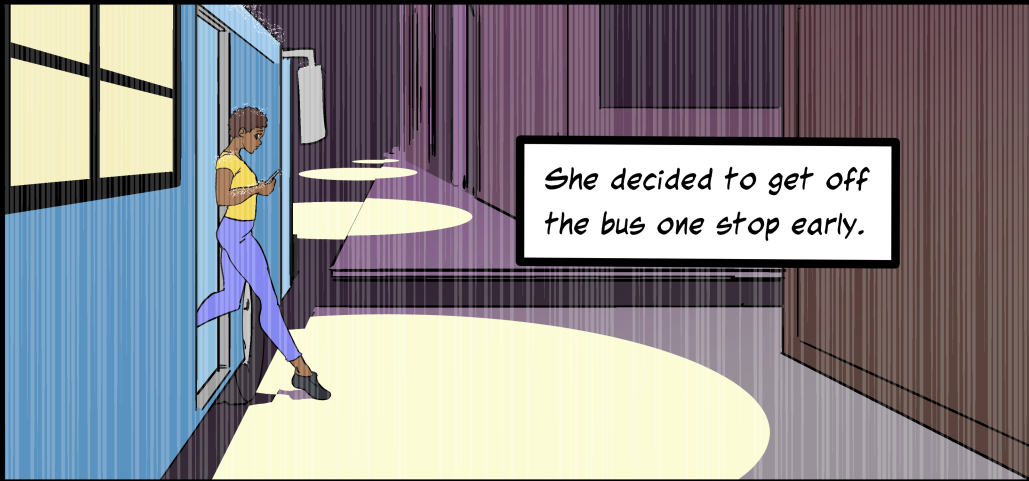

Kat had a late night at work and had to take the 9 o'clock bus.

There was one other man on that bus and she felt his eyes piercing her soul.

He filled the bus with a stench of rotten cheese.

She decided to get off the bus one stop early.

The man followed Kat.

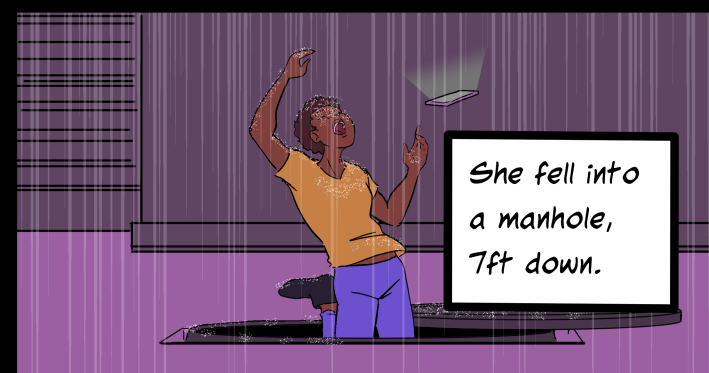

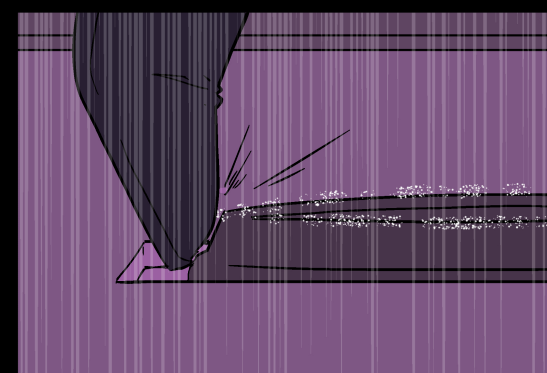

She was anxious. She looked back every minute, wondering if she was still being followed.

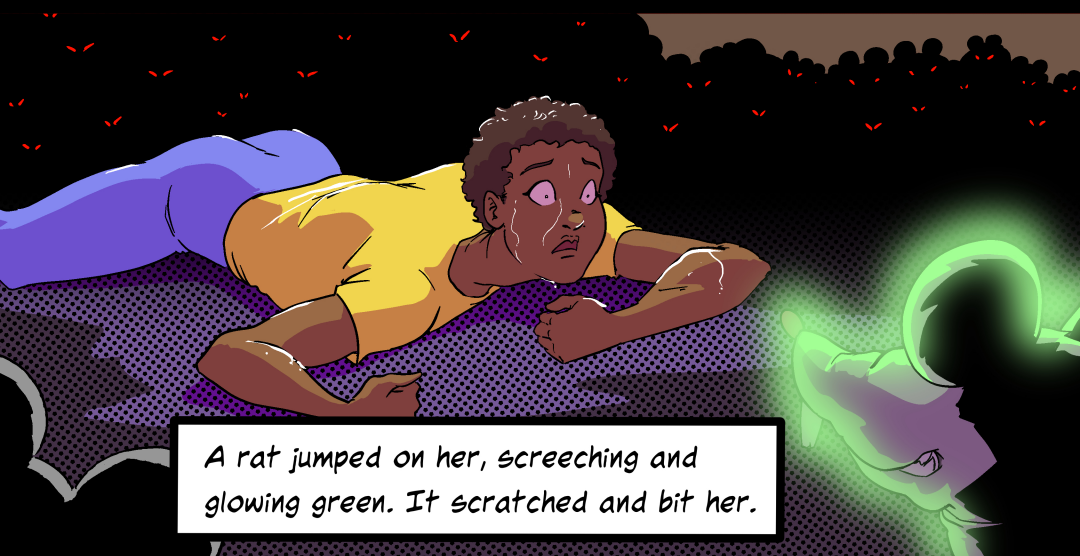

She hit an alleyway and started running.

Looking back while running wasn't smart.

She fell into a manhole, 7ft down.

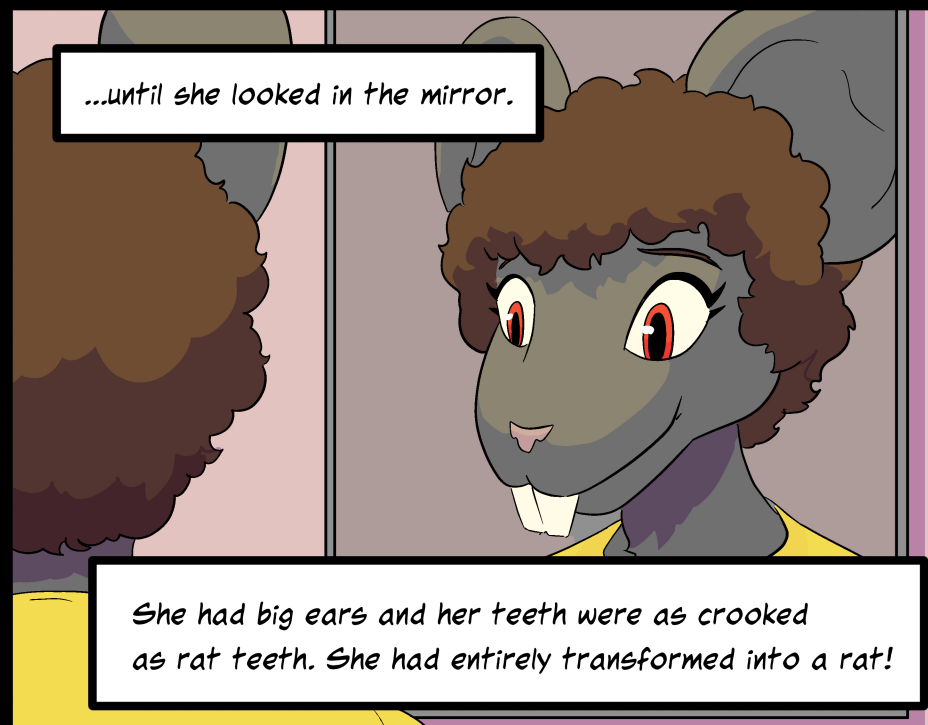

A rat jumped on her, screeching and glowing green. It scratched and bit her.

Kat woke up on her birthday, excited but in pain.

She thought it was all a dream...

...until she looked in the mirror.

She had big ears and her teeth were as crooked as rat teeth. She had entirely transformed into a rat!